

WHO ARE THE WOMEN INVOLVED IN STEM?

Jesse May Licot

Senior Business Analyst
Education Services
Australia (ESA)

PROFESSIONAL

Top-level responsibilities

Perform analysis to define and understand problems, uncover opportunities and outline solutions for a business, service, system or project.

Day-to-day work and skills

Collaborate with senior decision makers and the development team to ensure we are all working towards the best possible solution.

” WHO I FIND INSPIRATIONAL

Empowered yet grounded women who successfully balance family and career. This is a challenge for me so I look up to these women to remind myself that it is possible. My idol is Indra Nooyi, who has been the CEO of PepsiCo for 12 years and is currently on Amazon’s board of directors.

My parents always focused on building my maths skills, especially my dad, and it has been instilled in me ever since.

I completed a Bachelor’s degree in Mathematics at University of the Philippines.

PERSONAL

Current location and community

Melbourne, Victoria.

My interests and hobbies

I am into photography, fantasy novels, interior design, and documentaries focused on history, politics and food.

I am passionate about

My family, my work and my books.

What I would say to 16-year-old me

Keep having fun, worry less and it’s okay to be a nerd.

I wanted to pursue an actuarial career, but took a programmer trainee role in the Philippines, which started my career in IT.

I worked in Malaysia for three years as a lead systems analyst, then moved to Singapore as a technical business analyst. Before migrating to Melbourne and working at ESA.

I would like to continue contributing to my team and take on a mentoring role to pass on my knowledge and experience.
